

Our Mission

Cabezon Group's philosophy is "Empowerment through Technology." We employ technology to create innovative solutions for your everyday tasks and deliver honesty, integrity, and performance excellence. Some of our greatest strengths are the creative, flexible, and consistently effective management techniques we apply to every project. Each of our clients has at their disposal the best professional talent in the marketplace. We are passionate about our work to produce and provide a level of service to our client's, which molds experience with expertise, and blends sincerity with detailed planning and follow-through.

Cabezon Group maintains a corporate commitment to recruit and retain high quality professional staff. We pride ourselves in superior performance and high standards at all levels in our company.

Cabezon Group's management philosophy starts with a front-end analysis to determine the level of effort, number of personnel, training, and logistics support required for each specific project. We monitor clients' projects using our own system development life cycle techniques. Those techniques allow us to continuously identify changes and to complete the project successfully.

Event Management

You put your time, money, and reputation on the line every time you sponsor a meeting or conference. You must choose the right team to manage your events-experienced people who will make sure every detail is accounted for. Cabezon Group's event planning team gives you that assurance.

Modern, efficient and productive

Whether your event is a weekend conference or a one-day internal meeting for your staff, Cabezon Group works with you from your initial idea through to the cleanup after the last participants have gone home. By understanding the benefits and pitfalls of various new technologies, event trends, current events, and meeting facilities, Cabezon Group keeps on the cutting edge to plan gatherings that are modern, efficient, and productive.

Make your event the best it can be

The key to successful event management is efficiency: your guests should have what they need, when they need it. We anticipate the needs of your guests and the requirements of your programs, as well as handling the unexpected: when unforeseen problems arise, we resolve them swiftly and efficiently. Our expertise, experience, and flexibility means that we will make your next event the best it can be.

Grants Management

Cabezon Group staff and expert consultants have considerable experience in all aspects of the Federal grant making process. We have helped our clients from "cradle to grave" assisting in:

- Convening professional associations to aid in the development of program expectations.
- The development and promulgation of Federal register notices.
- Receipt, recordation and initial screening of applications.
- Help desk and FAQ services.
- All logistical support services associated with technical and expert peer review - face-to-face and teleconferencing.
- Financial negotiations, linking grantee financial reports to federal tracking systems, monitoring and tracking of awards.
- Receipt and processing of reports from active grantees.
- Close out procedures in compliance with specific Agency and all other applicable Federal requirements.
- The direct implementation of web-based grants management systems.
- Programmatic and expert evaluation of grantee performance outcomes.

Our company has assisted Federal clients in the substantive and administrative processing of literally thousands grant applications. We also maintain a roster of expert independent peer reviewers.

Technology Solutions

At Cabezon Group, we develop complete Web solutions for agencies who wish to establish a new or improved web presence. We know that usability, functionality and speed are the three critical elements that will make your web site a success. Our professional design team will blend these elements to fit your specific program requirements. The finished product will be more attractive and easier for your people to use.

Experience

Cabezon Group's development and application staff are trained experts with more than 25 years of experience. They have developed, designed and improved web applications for both public and private organizations. Our successes include helping small companies and businesses improve their web applications, as well as working with large Federal Agencies to meet the mandates of the Government wide e-commerce structure.

Custom web development

Some other companies add your logo to their Web site templates and call it "custom development." That is not our approach. When you contract Cabezon Group, a team of graphic designers, developers, and managers will work together to give you what you want. We create your project with the look, feel, and functionality you require.
